Product Updates
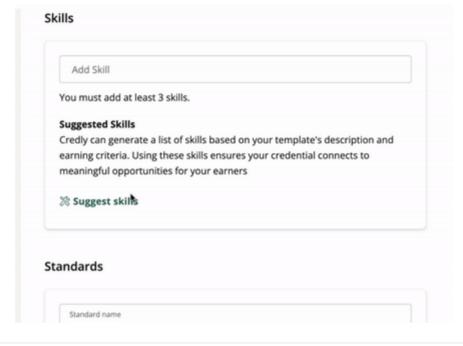

We are excited to share our "Suggested Skills" feature!

Now you can let the platform give you ideas of "normalized" skills based on your description and criteria. The skills that are suggested come from the EMSI/Lightcast skills database and will allow for greater consistency across the platform. We are working toward a common language of verified knowledge, skills, and abilities to benefit our earners, employers, and issuers.

We encourage you to edit one of your existing templates and see what suggestions surface.

Resources to help you

This video overviews skills in general and should be a helpful refresh of why we think skills are so important.

Because the algorithm reads your description and criteria to suggest the skills, this might be a good time to review what we see as a "quality" template.
