API Change Extended

For those who work with our APIs, we have extended the window for your redirects, from referencing youracclaim to credly so URLs will follow this structure: <https://api.credly.com/v1/<endpoint>>.

If you have not updated your API integration already, have the conversation with your IT team today - they have 6 weeks to make this change happen! Guidance on how to facilitate this update can be found here.

New deadline: January 31, 2022

Let's promote the success of your digital credential program!

Credly's marketing team is looking for digital credentialing success stories to be featured on our website, podcasts, webinars, in media pitches, and more. Have something to celebrate? Or a story you think could help other organizations? Share those details with us.

Complete a brief survey (it'll take about 4 minutes of your time) to tell us about the impact you've generated with your digital credentials.

Thank you for your ongoing contributions and dedication to skills-based hiring

As some of you may have already heard, Credly was recently included in Deloitte's 2021 Technology Fast 500™, an annual ranking that celebrates innovative, rapidly growing companies across the technology ecosystem. But we couldn't have done it without you.

Every roadmap, release, and update to our platform involves customer interviews and user testing of our new features in feedback cycles. Additionally, our customer success team works closely with product to share how people like you are using Credly. The rapid growth for which we are being recognized by Deloitte has been driven by your growth and success. Thank you for your trust in us.

On behalf of each Customer Success Manager at Credly, we wish you a very happy and healthy holiday season. We look forward to working with you in the new year.

Happy Holidays!
